After more than 25 years in the television news business, I wanted a career that took me one-on-one with people. I wanted a career that would allow me to help others feel better about themselves and become happier and more successful because of their newfound confidence and positive approach to daily life. I had to learn from the bottom up how to plan a business, how to start a business, how to fund it, market it, grow it and control it! Thankfully, the Women's Business Center was there to offer advice anytime, anywhere!

Drexel Gilbert Enterprises, Inc. is a consulting firm, offering full service image consulting and motivational programs. In our image consulting division "Dynamic Impact" we help our clients learn to present a polished, confident, trustworthy and professional image to the world, moving them closer to achieving their personal and career goals. Tapping into our own years of experience, we have been able to help our clients learn how body language, verbal and non-verbal communication, manners, public speaking skills, attitude and choices of clothing, hairstyle and makeup affect the way they are perceived, and in many ways, their level of success. We do this through intensive videotaped coaching sessions, personal and professional style analysis, and makeovers. Our makeovers include closet cleaning & organizing, shopping trips, and head-to-toe 'enrichment' for hair, makeup and wardrobe colors and styles!

Our motivational programs division, "Inspired Life," offers presentations ranging from keynote speeches to full day seminars on a variety of subjects, from the importance of positive living, to dressing for success, to professional presentation. We believe our attitude and approach to life are the most important keys to finding success, happiness and fulfillment! Owner and principal consultant, Drexel Gilbert has recently completed production of "Anchored: Reflections from a Reporter's Notebook." This exciting new approach to the daily devotion consists of thirty motivational moments on DVD. Through the camera lens, Drexel delivers daily inspiration for those who are 'on the go' and for those who desire a more personal approach in their quest for higher living.

The Women's Business Center was there from the beginning. From the very first 'business start up' workshop I attended, to the mentoring programs such as Success Circles, to the follow up phone calls, to the training presentations I've been honored to lead for them, the Women's Business Center has been a wealth of information and support.
